

Bassists and John Myung Fans

Learn some of the secrets to John's amazing bass techniques – check out his instructional video "Progressive Bass Concepts".

Check out this and other projects that John is associated with by visiting the John Myung web page on this site.

Have you heard John's side projects with Platypus and Jelly Jam? Click the links to check out these projects on Amazon.com and listen to the music sampler.

From Wikipedia:

John began playing bass at the relatively late age of 15, but because of his classically trained background on the violin he was able to move quickly from his beginner-level "Memphis" brand Precision bass copy to a salmon-colored four-string Fender Jazz bass. He also began to develop a unique playing style high on the neck, adding counterpoint lines and melodies to the band's material which are not typically heard in traditional "rock" music. He was also a heavy user of effects not typically heard on the bass guitar to better bring out his distinctive style.

Read the entire John Myung Wikipedia Article